To whom it may concern

In my own company I deal with a lot of Investors with my main focus being on unit development and building new homes. When my client's need home renovation work I always refer them to Ray Cairns.

I now have a very large word of mouth based clientele and I need my clients to be looked after. Ray's many years of experience in the building trade have given him expert knowledge in the home renovation industry.

All of my referred clients were very happy with Rays approach on dealing with the problems in their homes and they were thrilled with the designs he came up with.

I know my clients are in good hands and I thank Ray for his expertise and making sure the job gets done.

I look forward to working together in the years ahead.
